

DID HE ROB HER?

Robbins, the Attorney, Puts
His Foot in It.

BARRETT ENTERS COMPLAINT

And Attorney Robbins is Jerked Up by Judge Adair—Other Court and Criminal Matters.

J. W. Robbins, the colored attorney, is in serious trouble. He was arrested yesterday morning on a bench warrant and taken before Judge Adair, who "read the riot act" to him in a manner not at all pleasing to the dignity of a professional man. When brought before the court he was informed that Ida Barrett, whom he had defended in a divorce suit, brought by her husband, Melzer Barrett, had complained of his robbing her. In granting the decree of divorce, Judge Adair ordered that Mr. Barrett pay her $25 to take her back to her home in Louisville, Ky. Judge Adair told Mr. Robbins he believed he understood the order and if he did not understand that order he surely understood a later order by which he was ordered to take the money from Mr. Barrett. The judge said he was informed that Mr. Robbins had ignored the order and by deceit and force had deprived her of the money.

Mr. Robbins attempted to make an excuse, but he was interrupted with this order from the judge: "Mr. Sheriff, take charge of this man and go with him if he thinks he can raise the money. If he is not back here in twenty minutes I shall commit him for contempt of court." Mr. Robbins came back in about fifteen minutes with $15 and asked until 2 o'clock to raise the balance. He was successful and turned in the money promptly on time.

It seems that when Mrs. Barrett left the court room after the order was granted giving her $25 with which to go home, Mrs. Barrett, who is the wife of the clerk of the court, where a check was drawn and given to Mrs. Barrett. He accompanied her to the bank, where, when the cash was counted out, he seized it and refused to give up one cent of it. He told Mrs. Barrett that the case would have to go to the supreme court and he must have the money to take it up.

Mrs. Barrett appealed to Judge Adair and it did not take him long to decide what should be done in the case. He turned the case over to the prosecuting attorney, who is investigating it, and if the facts warrant it, he will have Robbins arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses. If nothing else is done, proceedings will be taken to disbar Mr. Robbins. The prosecutor has learned that Robbins has been blessing Mrs. Barrett from the starting of the case.

Special Jury Drawn.

The following special jurors were drawn in the United States court yesterday to serve in the condemnation case of the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan Railway company: William Hake, Ed B. Dikens, T. C. Stuckney, Andrew Doyle, Richard Stack, Peter Rumm, C. F. Rathbun, J. A. Richens, J. A. McKay, S. A. Norman, Joseph Penny, Edward A. Mowley of this city; James Watson and G. W. Sharen of Cedar Springs and James Abraham of Ada. The suit is brought to condemn a terminal for the railroad company at Frankfort.

Troy's Trial in Progress.

The trial of Ed Troy, charged with deadly assault upon Officer Tatroe, occupied the whole day in the superior court yesterday. In the afternoon Troy's defense was begun. He is striving to prove an alibi. He says he was down town until 9:30, and then went over to the turn on Veto street, where he was arrested with the rest of the "hobo" gang. Troy's story is not without some inconsistencies, and unless he brings strong proof to substantiate it he will be convicted.

Quiet in Police Court.

Tuesday morning there was but one lonesome drunk to come before police court and yesterday morning there was not a single case of drunkenness. The only new matter to come before the court was the three boys arrested for coasting on the sidewalk. They were referred to the county agent, who recommended that they be released on promise to do better.

Rausser Won the Case.

The jury which attempted to learn whether the conductor on the North Park road had a right to bounce George Rausser from a car when he presented a torn transfer ticket to pay for his fare, went to their room Tuesday evening and did not come in until 10 o'clock yesterday morning, when they returned a verdict for $1 for the plaintiff with costs.

CURVED DESIGNS SOUGHT

By All Furniture Buyers Now in the City.

Curves, curves, curves, predominate in the patterns of the furniture being exhibited here this year. Everything is curved. The straight lines and sharp angles have been merged into soft outlines and graceful bends. The technical name of this pattern is the rococo, and the visiting buyers bow down before it, even as the Turk bows to the stranger within his gate.

Heavy and lattice carving are also noticeable, especially on chairs. In fact the chairs are noticeable by the profusion of carved work which adorns them. Even chairs are being made in the perrand-rococo pattern, the heavy straight-backed fifteenth century chairs having proved to be extremely popular.

Yesterday more buyers arrived and the business transacted was correspondingly larger than on previous days, and was fully up to the expectations of the firms represented. However a large portion of the buyers are not so hand as yet, having been detained by the furniture dealers convention in Chicago.

Although many lines of medium and low priced furniture of the lighter variety are on exhibition, several "heavy" lines of "hot" goods are already unpacked. Among the goods shown are prima-vera suits in mahogany and gold, maple and gold and all gold, which are of exceedingly handsome and rich qualities. There are also shown styles from the era of Louis XIII, XIV and XV, empire, rococo, and exquisite bleedings of Marie Antoinette and Louis XVI, which two styles from the same era are blended with a nicely that pleases the aesthetic eyes of the buyers. Most of the massive carving is done by hand and the upholstered furniture is covered with exquisite satin damasks, brocades and lronias.

All through the exhibits a tendency towards delicacy of design and elaborateness of finish and lightness of general make up is shown. Fine lines of Turkish furniture, Roman sofas, divans and spring rockers are shown.

Of all the artistic and handsome displays made, probably none can equal the exhibitions of onyx cabinets, tables, banquet and piano lamps. A trip through the rooms filled with beautiful onyx and brass designs is like a trip to fairyland.

The onyx used comes principally from the Tocali and La Amalia mines in Mexico, and is probably the best found in the world. It comes in all colors, but opal white with cream, reddish or green tints and markings are the most popular varieties. Occasionally is found a piece that is a lovely opal color with cloudy effects, which is among the most beautiful effects.

The onyx tables and cabinets are among the highest priced goods shown in the market, some cabinets ranging as high as $400 in price. They are greatly prized, not only by lovers of the beautiful and tasty, but by antiquarians, who prize them highly on account of their ancient historic connections.

The general sentiment among furniture men is that the sale this year will equal those of a year ago and each one expresses himself as highly satisfied with the business done so far.

SEVERAL WERE SURPRISED.

Pleasant Exercises in Custer Post's New Quarters.

Lincoln club rooms never looked so inviting before as it did last night. Red, white and blue was on every hand. The pillars were wrapped in the national colors and the walls were draped with flags, while between were pictures of those heroes whom all G. A. R. members love. The room was packed with soldiers and their wives. The occasion was the public installation of the recently elected officers of the Custer Relief corps and Custer post. Capt. George Judd acted as installing officer for the relief corps.

The officers installed were: President, Mrs. L. Johnson; secretary, Mrs. Carrie Jackson; junior vice-president, Helen Pendel; secretary, Hattie Huff; treasurer, Viola Dipple; chaplain, Sally A. Ross; conductor, Mrs. Angie Price; grand, Jennie Lalone; organist, Miss Belle Leonard.

At the close of the ceremony Mrs. Johnson came forward with a beautiful basket of flowers, which she presented to Captain Judd as a token of the regard in which he is held by the newly installed officers. The gallant captain was taken by surprise, but he did not surrender. He retired, although he looked as if he would like to. He thanked the officers in a few words, expressing his deep regard for the members of the relief corps.

The members of Custer Post were installed by Department Adjutant General V. E. Johnson, assisted by the following: Commander, Charles P. Coffin; senior vice, W. A. Palmer; junior vice, A. A. Price; chaplain, J. O. Bellair; quartermaster, J. A. S. Verder; secretary, J. R. Stephenson; officer of the day, Ed Rasmussen; officer of the guard, W. E. Dickinson; sentinel, M. Van Strant; sergeant major, H. A. Hydrum; quartermaster, J. R. Rathman; adjutant, E. A. Dapper.

Another little surprise was sprung at this stage of the proceedings. Commander Coffin was presented with a basket of flowers which he accepted with a few words of thanks. It was time to spring the surprise of the evening and a small table was carried in on which was exhibited a few samples of an elegant dinner set, a gift from both the post and the corps to President Johnson of the corps. Mrs. Johnson made a very neat little speech of acceptance, hoping that at many G. A. R. meetings the members may have pleasure of eating from those dishes. The evening wound up with a musical and literary program and a short address from Department Commander Henry Dean of Ann Arbor.

UPHOLSTERERS' BALL.

Gay Masqueraders Make Merry at the Germania.

Last night at the Germania hall the upholsterers danced many hard, round dollars into the treasury of Upholsterers' union No. 38. The affair, which was a masquerade ball, was one of the most successful balls the union has ever given.

The hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, fully 400 being present. The decorations of the hall had been made under the supervision of A. Jahn and were very elaborate. They consisted of streamers of red, white and blue bunting draped gracefully from the chandelier to the wall, and beautiful wall decorations of bunting of the national hue. Over the stage was placed an elaborate display of bunting with the picture of George Washington as a background. On a level with the bottom of the gallery were the coats of arms of Ireland, Germany, Switzerland, with that of the United States occupying a prominent position opposite the picture of the father of his country. Many nations were represented among the maskers, prominent among which the floor managers loomed up as American Indians.

MRS. LAWSON'S TRIUMPH.

She Wins the Hearts of All the St. Cecilia.

The attractions offered by the St. Cecilia society artist recitals are always of excellent quality, but never have the ladies present on such occasions universally declared themselves so thoroughly enraptured as they were on hearing Mrs. Corinne Lawson of Cincinnati yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Lawson's fame had of course preceded her, but her charming personality combined with her pure and soulful voice were the qualities which quite captivated Grand Rapids musical women.

Mrs. Lawson is a southerner by birth; her voice is a mezzo soprano, which is good in the more brilliant music, but especially fine in tragic and pathetic selections. Her heart and life is in her song and her hearers realize it. The program arched in the literary club was festooned with southern smiles in her honor. The recital will be remembered as a leading event of the musical season. The program was as follows:

Had I Jubal's Lyre..... Handel
The Almond Tree..... Schumann
Nymphs and Shepherds..... Purcell
Trois piano, violin and cello; opus 85
Fragments..... Saint Saens
Gavotte..... Saint Saens

THE MONTAGUE TREATMENT

AN OLD ERROR CORRECTED.

More Gratifying Words For Dr. Rankin.

That catarrh can be permanently cured is proven by the statement below of Mr. James Blandford, a man well known among the manufacturers of the city. Dr. Rankin met him a few days since and asked him if he had any return of the catarrh. "No sir," said Mr. Blandford. "I have no symptoms of catarrh at all." Since I took your treatment last summer I have been a well man. When I began I was suffering intensely with neuragic pains in my head. I had catarrh of the nose and throat in an aggravated form. In the morning my first duty was to cough and hawk, cough and hawk until I had cleared my head and lungs from all the mucus that had accumulated over night. I had all the other symptoms common to catarrh, but now, thanks to your treatment last summer, I am FREE FROM ALL EVIDENCES of that loathsome trouble. If there is any one, Dr. Rankin, to whom I give a good word it is to you, and I know lots of your patients who are doing the same. I know I can recommend you in your specialties and I never neglect an opportunity to do so."

Dr. Rankin is a graduate of Ann Arbor and has had years of experience in his specialty.
